

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Helping professionals expand their career potential

Professional and continuing education that meets the needs of today's workforce

Kansas State University Olathe's campus provides advanced courses that increase knowledge and expand the career potential of entry-level talent to highly skilled executives in a wide variety of industries. This customized programming is designed to meet the evolving needs of the Greater Kansas City region and beyond.

K-State Olathe leverages the research and teaching resources of Kansas State University faculty and staff in combination with industry experts to provide powerful learning experiences that balance theory and practice. Partnerships with departments, associations and other nonprofit organizations provide additional value to each program's development and delivery.

Courses are delivered in-person and online.

Program Offerings

K-State Olathe tailors programs to a variety of industries and high-growth fields.

Specialty areas include:

Professional Skills – Leadership and emerging leaders, effective presentations, sales management, project management, group dynamics, data management, influencing others and communicating through conflict.

Animal Health – Regulatory affairs, veterinary professional services, One Health.

Food Science – Customized trainings to meet the demands of food science industries.

Engineering – Engineering management, supply chain logistics.

Visit olathe.k-state.edu/profdev to register for upcoming courses.

Customize

Our professional development opportunities are designed to build skills and expand individuals' career potential in a variety of industries. In addition to planned offerings, K-State Olathe's professional development experts are skilled at providing customized programs that fit your needs and are delivered on our campus, conveniently offered on-site at your organization or provided online. Our goal is to be your educational solution – and ensure success.

Conference and Event Planning

K-State Olathe's professional staff and world-class facilities make it an excellent option to host a professional event, whether you are hosting a small meeting or multi-day conference. From start to finish, our staff will help you plan and deliver a high-quality event that meets the needs of your audience for both on-site and virtual attendees. Let us know how we can help you plan your next event!

Contact Us

Angela Buzard
Manager, Training and Development
abuzard@k-state.edu | 913-307-7340

Connect

olathe.k-state.edu/profdev

facebook.com/KStateOlathe

@kstateolathe

linkedin.com/company/kansas-state-university-olathe